

To Whom It May Concern,

I was recently informed that the possibility of completely replacing the LD50 test is very real. Please take that step and ensure that new, cruelty-free methods are used. While I may not be the most knowledgeable person in this area, I do know that the LD50 is outdated, incredibly cruel and lethal and very unreliable. Please take whatever needed steps there are to prevent this test from being used in the future. Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,
Anna Mattson
